

“THIS AND THAT” A SOLO SHOW OF SUCCESS Michael Turner a Made In Clarkdale Artist at the “Corner Gallery”

~August 25, 2013

Over 100 art enthusiasts enjoyed the Grand Opening of Michael Turner’s Solo Show in Made In Clarkdale’s “Corner Gallery” on August 16th. It was a time to connect with Michael and his support team of loving wife Crystal, his son and his grandchildren who were there to witness the evolutionary success of years of creativity. Most who attended knew of Michael’s work with Mylar, an interesting visual material from his work exhibited in the annual Made In Clarkdale Art Shows each December. But in general few were aware of his talents with paint and canvases which were also impressive appreciated. Being able to personally connect with the artist and hear the journey and inspiration first hand increased the appreciation of the viewing... apparent by the sales of three of his key pieces. What a thrill to be recognized with the gift of collectors collecting!

As Made In Clarkdale events have come to be community events, a time to meet your new conversation and share inspired creativity, this show followed in that tradition.

Corner Gallery plans 3-4 shows per year as the Made In Clarkdale, enhancing artist showing talent of over 60+ local artisans with their community following. Plan to stop by for “This and That”, there’s still plenty of time to see the variety of selections of Michael Turner’s work, along with other Made In Clarkdale artists - Mary Liggett and Barbara Pierce. “This and That” remains in place and open through October 4th with Gallery hours Wed-Fri 10a-4p and Sat & Sun 10a-1p, evening hours planned for Friday and Saturdays.
